The disbursement to the Missouri Republican Party was made at the end of the reporting period and, due to an internal administrative error, was omitted from our original report.

At the conclusion of the 2012 calendar year, the Committee initiated an internal accounting of all the activity for the 2012 election cycle to ensure that it's reports were complete and accurate. This audit was not the result of any action of or request by the Commission. It was undertaken by the Committee as a measure designed to ensure complete past and ongoing compliance with the requirements of the FEC and to self-report any discrepancies.

It became clear when the audit began that there was a discrepancy resulting from the unintentional omission of the disbursement to the Missouri Republican Party. The Committee did not wait until the audit was completed but took immediate steps to report this transaction as soon as the discrepancy came to the attention of the Committee.

It should be noted that the disbursement of the Missouri Republican Party was a transaction that was reportable by both parties. The Missouri Republican Party disclosed the receipt of these funds as a part of their regular reports. The circumstances clearly indicate that there was no intent by either party to conceal the fact that the transaction had taken place.

The Committee completed its audit and made additional amendments on April 15, 2013. Several small changes to the reports were made including, the addition of small incidental disbursements including bank fees and service charges, the restatement of two previously reported payroll debits to accurately reflect the amount debited and the inclusion of a previously unreported credit card contribution.

The Committee remains dedicated to full and complete compliance with the requirements of the FEC and all federal laws pertaining to campaign finance. Please advise if any additional information is required.
